MY LADY GREY has enjoyed a fine couple of months at the course, winning two of her four starts, and softer conditions on this occasion will aid her causes in regards to her being able to make this more of a stamina test from the front. Memphis Bell has progressed nicely since being upped in trip, winning impressively at Ffos Las on her last two outings, and she can enter the reckoning along with Royal Claret, a winner when last seen at Hereford in March.

ELEANOR BOB was progressive in novice company last season and can be forgiven her final outing with conditions being extremely tough in Listed company at Doncaster. Venetia Williams' string have started the campaign well and an opening mark of 121 is workable. Sastruga won here on his return at a big price but there didn't appear to be any fluke about that performance and he commands plenty of respect, while others to consider include Jamessaintpatrick and Mille Sussurri.

JACK VALENTINE won with a bit to spare in maiden company at Exeter in March and could take the beating here now tackling handicap company off a fair mark of 110. Hugh Nugent is good value for his 3lb claim, and the pair will be well fancied here with conditions to suit. Breffniboy has been in good form lately and handles varying ground, while Colin Tizzard's string are yet to start firing fully but Russian Exile has a nice profile for a race like this.
1|THE RAVEN'S RETURN|119 - 4|RUSSIAN EXILE|117 - 2|JACK VALENTINE|116

GOLD LINK ran with a fair amount of promise on both of his outings in French bumpers last year and Emma Lavelle's gelding makes plenty of appeal on his hurdling bow. Metier was a useful performer on the Flat last season for Andrew Slattery, rated as high as 90 at his best, and he is of interest on his first start for Harry Fry. Istorius and Oneupmanship are others worth noting.

CLONDAW RIGGER went close on his reappearance earlier this month, finishing second over a similar distance at Ffos Las, and must have a great chance of going one better following a 3lb rise. Handler Katie Price's hand is strengthened by Jaycols Star, who can find this much easier than his chasing debut at Hereford, while Ballybreen was a three-time winner over fences last season and has to be respected. Venetia Williams has started to unleash her string and her Jurys Out is another worthy of respect, judged on the pick of his form.

Killer Clown is bred for chasing but suffered a mishap on his debut in this sphere at Uttoxeter two weeks ago, unseating his rider early on after being hampered. The six-year-old could do better this time, but it will take a big effort to account for MOMELLA, who was rated 142 over hurdles in 2019. Harry Fry can ready one after a long absence and perhaps a wind operation will prove the key to bringing this eight-year-old back to her best. Eceparti is also fancied to take high rank.

BUCKO'S BOY made it third-time lucky when defying a 405-day absence with an impressive seven-length victory at Hexham earlier this month and the experience of Jamie Snowden's five-year-old can come to the fore here, as he attempts to follow up under a penalty. Danny Park is one of the first few entrants for the returning Nick Mitchell and requires a market inspection on debut, while Gericault Roque finished fourth on his sole appearance in the pointing field and is interesting on his first outing for David Pipe, with the first three in that Tallow contest commanding hefty fees at the sales earlier in the year.
